PROJECTS

Order Management - FSD (02/2024 - 03/2024)
- Developed a comprehensive Order Hub application using HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Node.js, MongoDB, and Bootstrap.
- Order Hub serves as a centralized platform for managing purchase orders, sales orders, and company staff data.
- Leveraging HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, I have crafted a user-friendly interface that allows for seamless navigation and interaction. Node.js powers the backend, enabling robust server-side logic and API development. MongoDB serves as the database solution, providing efficient data storage and management capabilities.
- Additionally, Bootstrap ensures the application's responsiveness across various devices, enhancing accessibility and usability.

Daily Dress Colour Suggestion For Women (03/2024 - 03/2024)
- Developed "Daily Dress Colour Suggestion For Women" app using HTML, CSS, JS, Node.js, and MongoDB.
- Provided personalized colour suggestions based on season and climate, enhancing user experience.
- Implemented dress collection management feature, showcasing proficiency in full stack development
- Optimized application performance and user engagement through responsive design and seamless navigation.

Recipe App (04/2024 - 04/2024)
- Developed "Recipe App" Using HTML , CSS , JavaScript , React , Node Js , MongoDB , Mongoose and Express js
- Utilizing JWT and bcrypt.js, the application ensures that only authenticated users can view and save recipes, while allowing admins to add and remove recipes.
- With responsive web design, the application ensures optimal responsiveness across various devices, enhancing both accessibility and usability.

Rural Development Application (05/2024 - 05/2024)
- Developed with the MERN stack, featuring role-based authentication and authorization.
- Users can raise complaints and track their status, request waste pickups, and receive government announcements.
- Provides contact information for government officials, enhancing community engagement and support.
- Ensures secure and efficient resource management for rural development initiatives.
